

Let's Create

What do you feel like you should create now or next?

Where or who does that should come from?

What are you actually called to create now and/or next?

Why is this creation calling you right now?

How do you want to feel as you're creating?

What are the fears or doubts that come up when you thinking about creating this?

What is THE most loving truth about those fears are doubts if you listen to the wisest/most loving part of yourself?

What support do you want to welcome in during this creation process? What or who are you co-creating with?

What are you most looking to forward around this next creation and/or creative process?

What rhythm is feeling the best to you around this creation or this creative time? (Slow and steady, full-on/all-in, circling back every week or two, etc.)

What is the first step towards this creation?

How do you want this community to support you during this time?

Anything else that is popping up for you right now?
