

Loving Universe

1. How does it feel to imagine living in a loving universe?
2. How does it feel to imagine living in a hostile universe?
3. If you choose to believe in a loving universe, what do you imagine you'll experience more of?
4. If you choose to believe you live in a loving universe, does it change anything about how you act? Create? Connect? Risk?
5. What else would you like to receive from the universe?
6. What signs would you like to receive from the universe?

7. In this next month, do you want to focus on loving thoughts, loving words and/or loving actions?

8. When and where do you feel the most loved by the universe?

9. Do you have a gratitude to share for the universe? Or a desire you have for your relationship with the universe?